Payment is to be made in cash at the time of class. If a check must be written as the only alternate means of payment, please make it out to "Cash".

Please keep in mind that private lessons are prepared in advance specifically to address the technical needs of each student. At 92 years old, Mr. Danton must carefully plan his day around travel time, privates, errands, meals, rest and evening classes. Therefore, a cancellation must be made at least 24 hours in advance. In the event a lesson is canceled by you the day of class, a 50% cancellation charge will apply.

Students must be properly dressed:

No sweats, baggy pants or tops, or shorts. The entire body must be visible and uncluttered. Ladies – basic, one-piece, solid-colored leotard; pink footed tights; split-sole canvas ballet shoes that fit snugly and are worn strictly in the studio; hair pulled completely away from the face and neck and secured in a tight, neat bun.

Gentlemen – unitard or footed tights with fitted t-shirt or tank top, split-sole canvas shoes that are worn strictly in the studio; all hair secured away from the face.

Manual adjustment of a student's body for the correction of alignment and technique is a standard practice. If this is not acceptable, please let me know in advance.
